

FINDING AN ABSENT PARENT

Our Agency can try to find absent parents by using tools through the statewide child support computer system and other databases available to the agency staff. It is helpful if you can provide the parent's name and social security number. If the absent parent has moved to another state, the Agency can ask the other state to find him/her. The Agency can also search throughout the United States for the absent parent by using the Federal Parent Locator Service.